For examples of how to list other audiovisual media (e.g. TV show, podcast, song) in the reference section, use the following link: https://owl.purdue.edu/owl/research_and_citation/apa_style/apa_formatting_and_style_guide/reference_list_audiovisual_media.html Narrative and parenthetical citations always have the same form (Name, Publication Year)

Reference List Notes:

- “References” heading: bolded and centered
- Everything double-spaced and no extra spaces between heading and first reference
- Indent second/subsequent lines of each reference by a .5 in hanging indent (“tab” on keyboard)
- Alphabetize by first author’s last name
- All journal articles should have a DOI assigned; new standard format is: <https://doi.org/XXXX>

ALSO: Alphabetize multiple in-text citations within same set of parentheses; separate with semi-colon fewer (except the first word in the title and after punctuation within the title) • Italicize the journal title • Comma after the end of title; do not italicize the comma

2. Year (xxxx) • In parentheses • Year only (other periodicals [e.g., blog, newspaper, magazine] may include month, day, or season) • Period after closing parenthesis	5. Journal Volume Number • Italicize the volume • If no issue number, place a comma directly after the number • Do not italicize the comma after the volume number
6. Journal Issue Number • Include the issue number whenever available • Put the number in parentheses DIRECTLY after the volume number—no space between the volume number and the opening parentheses • Do not use italics or any other special formatting for this number and the parentheses • Comma after closing parenthesis	7. Page Numbers • Include full page range of article, even if you only use information from one page • No italics or any other special formatting • Separate the page numbers in the range using an en dash “–” (this is longer than a hyphen, and is usually typed by hitting option+hyphen, or alt+hyphen) • No page abbreviation such as pp. or pg. before the page numbers • Period after second page number • If an article number or eLocator instead of a page range, write the word “Article” (capitalized) and then the article number
8. DOI or URL • Include the DOI if available • Use the CrossRef DOI search engine if you cannot find the DOI in your article • Include the URL (website address) if retrieved online and it has no DOI • Copy and paste the EXACT string of letters and numbers • NO closing punctuation • Do not write “Retrieved from”
